

Intern at FSU Early Head Start

Build Real-World Skills That Make a Difference

Seeking a self-motivated, professional student eager to gain hands-on experience serving children and families in Gadsden County.

What You'll Gain

Direct Family Experience

- Shadow home visitors serving high-risk families in rural communities
- Observe and participate in home and virtual visits
- Build family engagement and goal-setting skills

Child Development & Clinical Learning

- Learn child development from birth to age 3
- Explore infant mental health, trauma, and maternal depression
- Conduct developmental and sensory assessments

Professional Practice

- Build case management and resource coordination skills
- Learn professional documentation techniques
- Support families in accessing community services

Parent & Community Engagement

- Help facilitate groups and child development activities
- Strengthen parent-child interaction skills
- Experience collaboration within rural communities

For more information about working with FSU Early Head Start

Contact Colleen Williams, LCSW

cmwilliams2@fsu.edu